Governor Huntsman Applauds New Commissioner of Higher Education

Salt Lake City – Utah Governor Jon Huntsman strongly supports today's decision by the State Board of Regents to name William A. Sederburg, current President of Utah Valley University, as Utah's seventh Commissioner of Higher Education.

"President Sederburg brings great respectability and strong leadership to this critical role," said Governor Huntsman. "He is a proven leader and public servant of the highest standard. His knowledge, experience, and persistence to continue elevating our higher education system will help future generations of Utah become better prepared for the 21st century."
